Residence Hall and Dining Services Construction

Ground was broken on four new residence halls April 20, 2012. Three of the new halls will be built on the North, South and West sides of Pierson Hall, while the fourth will be built behind Brown Hall. The project will add as many as 802 beds to campus by August 2013. It is expected to cost around $45.7 million.

Below is a map of the site detailing where the new halls will be located. You can also view this map for a layout of the pedestrian paths and fencing during the construction period.

Lawmakers urge Bible study in SD schools

By CHET BROKAW
Associated Press

PIERRE (AP) — A measure encouraging South Dakota schools to provide academic instruction on the Bible won final approval Monday from the state Legislature amid criticism from some lawmakers that it could blur the line between government and religion.

The Senate voted 25-10 to pass the non-binding resolution, which has no force of law.

Say 'cheese'! Brookings lands Bel cheese plant

■ Cheese production plant to employ 365-400 workers

By KEN CURLEY
The Brookings Register

The Laughing Cow is coming to Brookings.

Brookings Economic Development Corporation (BEDC) officials revealed today that Bel Brands USA has selected Brookings as the site for its third U.S. cheese plant.

Bel Brands based Fromm will begin construction of a 400,000-square-foot plant at the city's Fox Swiftel Center

Bel will invest $36 million in the plant building and another $126 million in equipment, said Al Heuton, BEDC director.

In a press release issued this morning, the company reported that it will invest "approximately $100 million" to build its manufacturing plant.

Heuton said the project will mean between 365 and 400 new jobs.

plant opens in 2013.

The company indicated in its press release that plant construction, and reaching the 400-employee level in Brookings, would happen in two phases.

The Bel Group is a family-controlled, international company that specializes in the production of quality branded cheeses. The French parent has plants in 22 countries and sells its products in 120 countries. Bel is known worldwide for its iconic Laughing Cow trademark.

Bel Brands USA is headquartered in Chicago, and the city last year named it one of the "101 Best and Brightest

Announcement at Swiftel Center this afternoon

Gov. Dennis Daugaard, dignitaries from Bel Brands USA, Brookings Mayor Tim Reed and the entire city council will be on hand today for the formal announcement of the opening of a Bel Brands cheese production plant in Brookings.

The announcement and press conference, open to the public, will begin at 2 p.m. at the Swiftel Center.

Lance Chambers, CEO of Bel Brands USA, will attend the event, as will Francine Moudry, who will become director of operations at the new manufacturing facility.

The governor will be accompanied by Pat Costello, state director of economic development, as well as members of the state Department of Agriculture.

Also on hand will be staff and directors of
